

Transition Team Survey September 26th

Community Connections

The Transition Team is hosting a number on short surveys over the coming weeks to gather wider input from the congregation on a number of key areas of congregational life. This week the survey focuses on community connections and peer groups.

1. How connected do you feel to St. Andrew's at this moment?

- Not connected at all.
- I call St. Andrew's my congregation but have minimal connections.
- I am struggling to feel as connected as I was before the pandemic.
- I regularly connect with St. Andrew's news and with friends in the congregation
- St. Andrew's friends and activities are central to my life.

2. As you contemplate your future connection with St. Andrew's which of these means of building relationships and community are important to you? (You can choose as many as you feel applicable)

- in-person worship physically gathered in the sanctuary
- online chat opportunities like the Zoom Coffee Chat in May
- in-person small groups, I am willing to mask and social distance
- resuming Wednesday noon worship, knowing that it will be some time before lunch can be included as an accompanying activity
- small ongoing online study/book groups where there is a consistent circle of participants
- I am enjoying the flexibility of online worship and hope it continues
- Other (please specify)

3. There are different ways that people experience and make peer connections with a community of faith. Some of the traditional ways at St. Andrew's have been small groups, committee work, and choir to name a few. As you think of your future participation at St. Andrew's which of these groups would provide a way for you to nurture peer relationships? Choose as many as are applicable.
